The elections board unanimously found the campaign of Jacari Holt to not be in violation of law 1008.6.4 in the Auburn University Student Government Association Code of Laws stating “Any form of campaigning and/or attempting to garner votes from students inside Auburn University buildings or in sight of campus computer labs is prohibited on voting day(s), with the exception of organization and chapter visits held inside Auburn University buildings on this day”.