

As Auburn University prepares to move to remote instruction, University Writing is available to help support your writing assignments.

Writing Support for Students

Please consider including the following statements on your syllabus or Canvas course:

- The Miller Writing Center will continue offering synchronous, online writing consultations for all students and all writing at any stage in the writing process. During this campus closure, online appointments will be available Monday – Thursday 9:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m., Friday 9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. Learn how to make an online appointment.
- University Writing will continue offering WoW Wednesdays, live via Zoom. Registered attendees will receive an email with a Zoom link to join the workshops. Register for upcoming workshops here.

Writing Instruction Support for Faculty

Learn how to support students as they write research papers, reports, ePortfolios, or other writing assignment in an online environment:

In partnership with the Biggio Center, University Writing faculty are available for live remote help at the following times:

- Mondays 10:30 – 12:00, 12:30 – 2:00
- Tuesdays 12:00 – 2:00
- Wednesdays 10:30 – 12:00, 12:30 – 2:00
- Thursdays, 8:00 – 10:00

To get help, go to aub.ie/bighelp, tell them you want help managing a writing assignment, and they will place you in a breakout session with University Writing faculty. We can help with any of the following:

- Communicating effectively to your students via writing (course announcements, emails, handouts, PowerPoints, scripted lectures)
- Guiding students through the writing process online
- Scaffolding assignments using transparent design
- Responding to student writing using online platforms, including Canvas and Office 365
- Setting up free, asynchronous peer feedback sessions in Eli Review (see their getting started video)
- Conducting synchronous writing conferences via Zoom
- Creating effective discussion forums in Canvas
- Integrating low-stakes writing activities (e.g., reflective writing, writing-to-learn)

Please email us to schedule a digital consultation outside of the times listed above.
